Course Objectives

Our objectives for this day include addressing the common health issues related to women as they age. We will discuss state-of-the-art gynaecological and menopausal treatments. Finally, we want to provide a forum for interactive dialogue for the management of health care issues related to the aging women.

Accreditation

This program has been submitted for accreditation with appropriate accrediting bodies and credit hours will be posted in the next few weeks.

For nurses, this course will fulfill the requirement for reflective practice.
